Growing the Bond Between Dog and Owner

Fall/Winter 2009

News About Us

We are taking a break!

As some of you may have noticed Kata has been baking her own little bun for some time.

We are happy to announce that Kata is expecting her first baby.

Peanut, as it has been lovingly known for the past 8 months, is due around October 19, and the proud parents-to-be couldn't be happier!

Lumpi and Boni have been great taking care of her, making sure she is not over doing anything, eating on time, and getting her naps. ☺

We can't wait for them to meet Peanut!

So as she prepares for sleepless nights and the joys of motherhood, Kata is taking a little time off until Spring 2010.

Please send us updates on your progress with training and any special training or classes you might be interested in when we start up again.

Training Tip of the Season

Holiday season is coming up which means candy, turkey, chocolate and guests!

Brush up on training basics such as Sit, Down, Stay and Leave It.

Practice Door Manners!

Give him a nice long walk before your guests arrive.

Provide a quiet spot for him where he can get away from your guests when he needs to.

Keep all food and candy up high on counters or tables.

Give your dogs some special toys or treats that are good for him so that he doesn't eat things that are dangerous.
